THE GEORGIAN

JOY & LAUGHTER

YEARBOOK 2021-22

As we headed into our 3rd weird year of the Pandemic, nothing was needed more than some genuine "Joy and Laughter".

The students and staff at RSGC rose to the occasion once again, and we got through the year distancing, masking and sanitizing together.

This book is a celebration of the many happy moments, friendships and memories the year provided.

Thanks to everyone who contributed to this yearbook! Special thanks to Mr. Stevens and Gustavo for the great photography! And Brevan Babbar for the cover design! We hope you enjoy it!

Staff and students were asked, "What makes you joyful at RSGC?" A variety of answers to that question can be found throughout the pages of your yearbook. Have fun reading them!

Looking back at my Prefect speech in the spring of 2021, under the umbrella of yet another COVID lockdown, I am struck by how it all still resonates a year later. RSGC has given so much to me, and I am grateful I had the opportunity to serve the school this past year and to also give back to the greater community in some meaningful way. First, the community service projects that I was a part of thankfully made a resounding comeback this year (including monthly food drives, Movember, the drive to benefit Ukraine, and Operation Raise a Flag, amongst others). The Peer Tutoring Program is yet another key component of my Prefect duties this year that directly benefits the students of RSGC. I love that I was able to serve both the school and the outside community.

Heres to my fellow prefects for all the work they have done this year, and best wishes to the incoming prefects for 2022-2023 and beyond. Sam Case

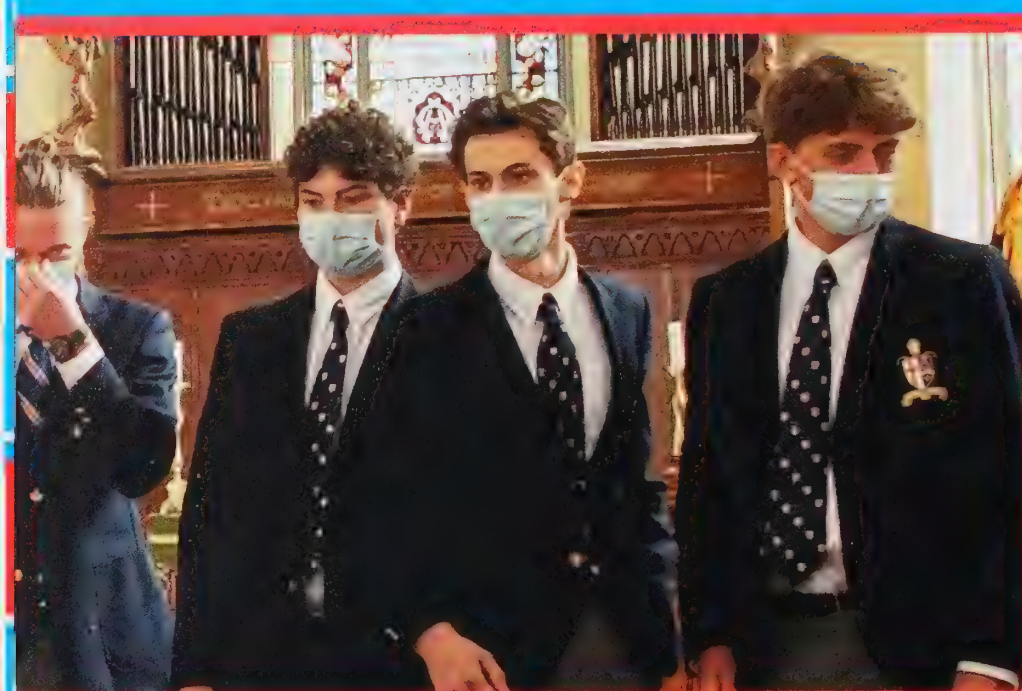

Coming into Grade 12 after a year of pandemic schooling, I wanted to have fun in my final year at the college. Running for prefect was one of the ways I got to surround myself with great people that thought similarly to me. Together we made plenty of memories, organized many amazing events and coming out of that horrible 2020-2021 school year, reminded people what RSGC is really about; the community. One of my favourite memories was having the 12s get suited up for our Grade 12 casino night. Seeing all the students around me get in the spirit of the event and enjoy themselves was a relieving feeling and one that will leave a lasting memory about this incredible school community. My time as an RSGC prefect has been an unforgettable experience. I've had so much fun speaking at assemblies, getting to know boys in grades below me, and helping organize events that I remember enjoying during my time at RSGC. While I'd like to take credit for many of those moments, all of the recognition should go to the amazing team we've had supporting us along the way. Thank you to Ms. Kaye, Mr. O'Leary, and Ms. Jessani for such a great year, and thank you to the other prefects; each one of you did an incredible job!

Marten Ling

What made me most happy about being a prefect, more specifically the Junior School and Community Service prefect, was the opportunity to spend time helping those outside the grade 12 and RSGC community. Connecting with the grade 3s and collecting food for the monthly community drives were some of the most special moments of my time at the school and I will never forget them.

Thank you RSGC, and thank you Ms. Kaye, Mr. O'Leary, Ms. Jessani, Ms. Nozuka, Mme. Bonetta, Ms. Magor, and Ms. Totten for all of your support.

HEAD BOY

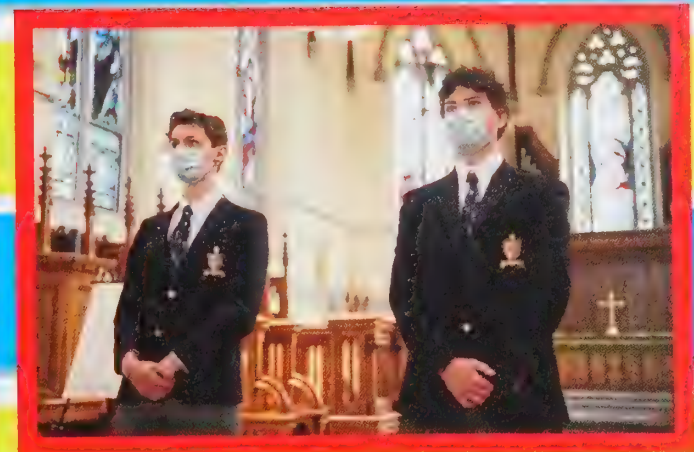

Justin Eng

Being a prefect has been a dream come true. The prefects have always been a group of students I have looked up to, so I was ecstatic to learn that I would get the honour of wearing the same tie as those past leaders. Being a prefect has been the highlight of my graduation year, from getting to plan social events for different grades, to taking on more responsibilities around the school, I have enjoyed every minute of this year. I had a lot of fun getting to know students in the lower grades, its been a tradition that we all missed through the pandemic and I really enjoyed the limited time we were given. I was especially proud to wear this tie as my father was also a prefect, and I had always hoped to follow in his footsteps.

GRADE 8 LEADERSHIP TEAM

"We would like to thank the Grade 8 Leadership Team for their service to the school. These 25 students self-selected to be part of a collaborative team that wanted to make a difference. They created Virtual Assemblies every week from September 2021 to June 2022. Every week, on rotation, a small group of students on this team was responsible for scriptwriting and producing/editing a virtual assembly that informed the Junior School community about what was happening in the school. They promoted school events, and they engaged in discussing the many heritage months. These students helped with the monthly community drives, and they were responsible for creating a terrific Spirit Week. We take this opportunity to thank them for their commitment and dedicated service to the school."

You can say all you want about the varsity hockey team, but what you cant do is deny the fact that THE Royal St. Georges College Knights tied Greenwood in the #lastdance, and Ill stand by that forever.

Cian Bryson

Firstly, I want to thank my parents for encouraging me to attend RSGC and supporting me throughout my journey here since I wouldn't be the person I am today without the people I've encountered. From Mr. Wade West, who ignited my passion for music, starting with the recorder in Grade 3, to Mr. Seale, who's shown me the role and responsibility of artists in our day and age, and to so many more, thank you. You have all been crucial in my growth and have shaped me into who I am now. Without you all, I might've even gone into business and died with money. I want to end this with a quote from Hector Berlioz, a great composer from the romantic era: Time is a great teacher, but unfortunately it kills all its students. However, this isn't to sound morbid, but more as a reminder of how much we can accomplish during our lives, and how little it ultimately matters if we fail.

Connor Carson

My time at RSGC has truly been an amazing experience. I have learned many things, from academic lessons to life lessons, that I will carry with me for the rest of my time. I have learned how to use semicolons properly and how to solve for x, kind of; when it comes down to it, the life lessons are what will truly stick. My time at RSGC has taught me how to be myself, not conform to social standards and be who I really am. And something that I have learned by myself along my journey is that in life, the things you achieve and the money you make aren't the most important; they're just an added benefit. The most important thing in life is the journey to your goals, the places you go, and the people you meet along the way. By this, I'm not suggesting that working hard and having a successful career is unimportant; I'm saying that the friends you make are the true treasure at the end of your journey.

Sam Case

There are too many people to thank for so many wonderful years of my life spent here, but I want to start by thanking every teacher that I have been lucky to have throughout my time at RSGC. Ill never forget the lessons you all taught me, your unwavering passion, and your kindness. RSGC has always felt like a second home, and its because of all of you that it feels that way.

I also want to thank my mom and dad. Thank you for putting me through RSGC, these years have shaped me into who I am today, and I feel so lucky to have experienced such an incredible education. I dont think I will ever be able to adequately show my gratitude for all the sacrifices you made for me.

Liam Cassano

Sometimes you find out what you are supposed to be doing, by doing the things you are not supposed to do.

Thank you to my family, friends and the RSGC community for making space for curiosity and creating opportunities to follow my passions.

Zachary Chabursky

Madness, as you know, is like gravity. All it takes is a little push. - The Joker, The Dark Knight.

Alexander "Xander" Chin

My 4 years at RSGC have been perhaps the most impactful of my life to date. I formed some great friendships, discovered my passion and calling in life, and had a totally enjoyable time while doing it. A large part of this is thanks to the fantastic teachers at the school, all of whom influenced my growth and learning in so many ways. Space prevents me from acknowledging each and every one by name, but there are a few to whom I owe a special thanks. COVID wasn't the only virus that got me an extended school break

I cant put into words how glad I am that I chose RSGC. Since day one of grade 7, Ive grown and learned alongside so many outstanding people; the connections Ive made here will stay with me for the rest of my life. Ill never forget my time here, and Im proud to call myself a Georgian. Thanks to everyone who made this journey unforgettable. I aint feelin it, (comma), (pregnant pause), yo. - Mr. Farrar

Ethan Czekalla

High school went by almost as fast as the VC fills up to watch Valve take my money.

John Dawson

WOW, it has been a long ride. I want to thank my teachers for always supporting and helping me through my high school years. Mr. Kotecha, for constantly pushing me, Mme. Deblois for the best French class of my high school career, and Mr. Farrar for the most entertaining History classes. Mr. Sarellas, for teaching me so much about working out. I want to thank my peers for all the fantastic memories and the lifelong connections I have formed with you guys. I will always miss Change room 1. Finally, I'd like to thank my parents for sending me to RSGC all those years ago in grade 5. It was one of the best decisions of my life, and I will always be grateful for the experience I gained at RSGC.

Russell Deeks

Yarema Dzulynsky

In my four years at RSGC, I have made many great friends, been supported by amazing teachers and had the opportunity to explore my various interests. I am very grateful to have gone to a school with such a tight-knit community. In my time at RSGC, I was first introduced to the world of coding through my software class and have come to really enjoy it. My love and passion for software would not have been possible without the incredible opportunities given to me at RSGC. I would also like to thank my friends and family who have supported me throughout many ups and downs in my high school years. Im definitely going to miss RSGC, but I am looking forward to what is to come.

Mitchell Elashuk

There were so many highs and a few lows but I can honestly say I am leaving RSGC with no regrets. I took some great classes, played on some great sports teams and met so many great people. I am not only a better student, teammate and person because I spent Monday to Friday between 8 and 3 at RSGC but because dedicated peers and staff spent time with me in the gym during early morning practice and in classrooms after school. I am ready for the many more classrooms I will be in because I have been taught the importance of being kind, perceptive, curious and confident. So, thank you to all of my teachers and coaches for moulding me into someone who is ready for the future.

Justin Eng

I want to start by thanking my parents and family for their unwavering support throughout my entire life; they have and will continue to be my motivation in everything I do. To Mom and Dad, your faith and trust in me have allowed me to achieve goals I never could have dreamed of. I want to thank all the teachers who Ive gotten the privilege to learn from; your devotion and passion for teaching are largely responsible for who I am today. I wanted to give a special thanks to Mr. Rankin, Dr. Darvasi, and Mr. Chow.

From the moment I stepped on campus six years ago on New Boys Day, Ive felt like I have belonged in the RSGC community. Throughout the years, the staff at RSGC have not only taken the time to teach me but also to get to know me and have built relationships outside the classroom making me feel known and loved. I would also like to thank all my coaches over the past six years at the Royal College while playing volleyball and badminton who have allowed me to grow, learn, and lead. Let's also not forget the CISSA volleyball champions in both 2019 and 2021 (humble brag eh) with coaches Ms. Ghoreshy and Mr. Turner. Lastly, I would like to enthusiastically thank Ms. Dickinson for not letting me answer any questions in math class this year, I coincidentally took the same approach when it came to math homework.

Blake Garston

You might know me as Blake or out on the ice Handsey Malone as Mr. Smith would call me. Thank you Mr. Kotecha for inspiring me to find a new interest in NFTs and crypto (Bitcoin 2027 prediction: $500,000). Thank you Mrs. Mladen for teaching me art and I am so glad with how much my art has improved over 4 years (my new favourite medium has to be spray paint).

Noah Glas

My four years at Royal St. Georges College have each been vastly different, yet in all of them, I have learned so much and made so many memories. Im grateful that I was able to start and end my time at RSGC with mostly normal years. I will never forget this place and the people who made it special. Thank you Mom and Dad for sending me to RSGC, Mr. Kotecha for teaching me to always keep my hands up and that accounting is much more than debits and credits; Dr. Lambersky for teaching me some of the most useful skills I will ever learn, Mr. Doerksen for awesome math classes and ping-pong club, Ms. Mladen for allowing me to express my TFC passion through art, and Mr. Spacie for some classic golf team moments.

Jack Goodwin

"A problem is only a problem if you view it as one" - A very smart guy

Aaron "Max" Greaves

Thank you to everyone at the Royal College for being a huge support over my 6 years of being here. From the baseball team to spares in the Bio Room, Ive had a great time and I couldnt have asked for a better high school experience. Back in grade 7, RSGC was anything but an ideal home for me as a student, as my parents could tell you. But looking back on that, I couldnt be more grateful to them for sending me to this amazing school where I got to meet some amazing staff, teachers and students. Special thanks to Mr. Rankin for putting up with me during my spares, your help with chemistry and your rants about Bell will not be forgotten. Its beyond the scope of the course. - Mr. Rankin

Nattysub Hailemariam

Its been 4 years since I first came to RSGC and I have had a great time during these 4 years. I have been blessed with such talented teachers who have taught me so many things about school as well as myself in a delightful manner. Even though covid-19 made the R.S.G.C. experience much inferior, the staff, teachers as well as the students made it much more bearable. I am so grateful to be part of RSGCs community because everyone here is so supportive and kind. To end it off here is a quote that resonates with me we reduce our light, in fear of being misunderstood in a world where people are struggling to understand themselves. -Meggan Roxanne

Lucas Hardie

Thinking back at my six years at RSGC, I can honestly say that right from new boys day in grade seven I have enjoyed all of my time here. I feel that I have formed real bonds with all of my teachers. A particular thank you to Mr. Hutton, Mr. Wade West, and Sensei Miller for having such an impact on me since the beginning of my time at RSGC.

As I think about my time at RSGC, I am very thankful for the opportunity I was given by my parents to attend the school. Time has passed quickly since I first joined the community in grade nine. I would like to thank Ms. Deblois and Mr. Rankin who especially showed enthusiasm in my growth that first year. I would like to include a special shoutout to Señora Seeley, Mr. Wade West, Mr. Kotecha, and Dr. Darvasi for the fun times and inspiring moments in and out of classes throughout the past four years. Finally, I have to thank the boys who have surrounded me as friends, teammates and classmates. I will always remember the good times I've shared with this graduating class, and I am truly grateful for that.

Owen Lamacraft

"We're on to Cincinnati. It's nothing about the past, nothing about the future, right now we're preparing for Cincinnati. We're getting ready for Cincinnati." - Bill Belichick

David Langill

Coming into RSGC in Grade 9 as a new boy, I didn't know what to expect; but I found myself part of a vibrant and passionate community of boys and teachers. That is what defines RSGC; the sense of belonging and community present between the students and the staff. From my personal experience, I have yet to find one staff member who was not passionate about teaching and helping the students. Similarly, all the other staff, whether cooking or cleaning, were kind and supportive and strived to get to know me. Therefore I would like to thank all the faculty members at RSGC for sharing their passion with us. From their passion, I became motivated to learn more and become a better person.

Owen Lavoie

As I finish my 8-year career at RSGC I am full of mixed feelings. One part of me is elated to be taking this next step into life. However, it is hard to say goodbye to an institution that has shaped me into the man I am today. I started my time at the college as a hyperactive, inattentive and unsure kid. I am leaving the college with a strong sense of personal identity, academic confidence and close-knit friends. Through all of those lively debates in economics, life lessons learned in History class, intense hockey games, nerve-racking band performances, 7:15 am alarms, glitchy google-meets, sleepy chapel services, chicken lunches, 11:59 pm submissions and so much more I have loved every moment.

Daniel Lee

First things first, These past 4 years were not normal, pretty much anything but normal. But who says things have to be normal? There are way too many variables to think about and keep track of in life; everything can't be smooth sailing or normal. So in the words of Ted Mosby
 "There's no way of knowing for sure where the safest place is, so the best you can hope for is to have some good company."
 And Finally, some words to live by You can always retake a class, But you can't relive a party.
 Oh well.

Alexander Ling

Thank you to Ms. Dickinson, Mr. Kotecha, Ms. Hart and Dr. Darvasi and of course, Mr. Jamieson for helping me find a passion for learning through your devotion and enthusiasm for teaching.

Important lessons that resonated with me during my time at RSGC:

Think about intentions before you say anything.

Take advantage of opportunities to simply learn and explore.

Embrace and grow from failure and mistakes, no matter how painful or humiliating.

Marten Ling

The lessons that I will leave RSGC with are from the teachers that changed my perspective on actions I hope to take in my own life.

1. Take initiative in your own learning. Don't just limit yourself to the instructions on the assignment sheet. Do your best to use the knowledge you've learned outside the classroom to set yourself apart.

2. Seek out opportunities that aren't right in front of you. Follow a passion and start a club, or challenge yourself and take a Grade 12 course in Grade 11. Trying new things is the best way to find what you really enjoy doing.

3. Decisions move your life forward. Don't wait to make that choice. It's what's stopping you from pursuing the things you should've gone after a long time ago. Thank you to Mr. Algarvio, Dr. Darvasi, Mr. Kotecha, Ms. Turner, Mme Bonetta, Mr. Wade West, Ms. Hart, and Ms. Dickinson for teaching me these lessons and being unforgettable examples of how I want to help others in the future as well.

I have been at RSGC for six years now and I could not have asked for anything more in a school experience. I am so incredibly fortunate to have had the ability to attend a school like this. From the moment I entered this school for the first time, I was welcomed with open arms into a generous, supporting and caring space. I would especially like to thank my family, teachers, friends and fellow Georgians for pushing me every day to become a better version of myself. I would also like to thank those who did not push me as hard and understood that sometimes it is for the best to just say no. Anyways, So a moth goes into a podiatrists office, and the podiatrists office says, What seems to be the problem, moth?

First, I'd like to thank my parents for sending me to RSGC and for all the support they have given me all throughout high school. Second, I'd like to thank my teachers, mainly Dr. Darvasi and Mr. Chow for making an impact on me beyond the education they provided through their courses. Finally, I'd like to thank the class of 2022 for being brothers to me all these years.

During my six years at RSGC, I have had many positive experiences. I have to appreciate the commitment and willingness for extra support from all of the teachers in both the Junior and Senior School. I have also met many great people and made strong friendships through the day-to-day experience at school, extracurricular activities and class trips, such as the grade 8 trip to Quebec City. I am happy to this day that RSGC was a part of my elementary school experience and was my high school. My parents also deserve recognition for their support of my education.

David Newton

Thank you to all teachers for working to make my RSGC experience something special. I would like to extend a special thank you to Dr. Lambersky for teaching me to think analytically, Dr. Darvasi for introducing a different standpoint around social issues, Mr. Rankin for always being available to have a fun conversation with, Mr. Turner for supporting my athletic endeavours and leadership, and Mr. Kotecha for always inspiring me to pursue learning and challenge beyond what RSGC brings. I have incredible gratitude for this school and will always be grateful for the experiences and community it provided.

Its crazy to think that Ive spent half a decade of my life at RSGC, I mean, they say that time flies when youre having fun but it really went by in a blur, although, it didnt feel like a blur when we forced to abandon our technology camp in the wilderness in our first week of grade 9 so we could bond with the collage of people wed spend our high school years with or during the bus rides to Appleby on the u16 basketball team or the joy that turned to terror as COVID gracefully entered our lives and gave us two extra weeks of march break in exchange for 1 and half years of our high school experience. Nevertheless, looking back on my time at our royal college fills my mind with warm memories; but, most importantly, my time here has made me realize that I cannot continue living passively. I cant wait for situations to fall in my lap, I cant sit around and watch things happen, I have to create them myself.

I had a great time in high school, and it allowed me to go to the places where I want to go. However, the most important thing I have acknowledged is moving forward and learning from the things that I have experienced. The future is what you make it, and I have to keep working hard and moving forward to achieve my dreams. I would like to thank everyone who's been able to push me and motivate me to keep moving forward and therefore kept me focused on what I want to achieve in life because without that, I would be further away from the person I would like to be. It has been a great adventure at RSGC from paddling long and far on a canoe trip for Duke of Ed to gambling at casino night in grade 12. It was a rollercoaster of emotions due to the difficult pandemic. I would like to give thanks to all the teachers who were great leaders and inspired us. Thanks to the friends who were always there. Finally, thanks to my parents who made this amazing experience possible. Dont walk in front of me, I may not follow. Dont walk behind me, I may not lead. Walk beside me and be my friend. Thank you to all the teachers and friends that I made memories with over the 10 years I've been at RSGC. It's crazy how fast 10 years can fly by. What a journey it's been. Excited to see what the future holds for us.

William Van Alstyne

To sum up my time here I feel it would be best to give an anecdote from each of my years.

Grade 7: Pre-teen angst and the corner

Grade 8: Great food (thanks to the new chef)

Grade 9: Lots of new kids (I think something must have happened at a neighbouring school)

Grade 10: Completely forgettable (COVID year)

Grade 11: Got a 10% boost in my marks and in body fat

Grade 12: Great final year to round out my experience. Lots of ups and downs but most of the bad stuff happened after I got into university.

When I came to RSGC in Grade 7, I really had no idea what to expect. Pretty quickly I figured out how great a community RSGC has, and how fortunate I am to be a part of it. From missing dozens of bicycle kicks to learning how to draw a heptagon, I've made so many memories over the 6 years I've spent at the college, and learned many lessons that have made me the person I am today. To all my family, friends, and teachers who have helped me along the way, thank you for being there the entire way.

Since coming to the school in Grade 7 Royal St. George's College has been a terrific place of learning, friendship, and athletic performance. As a full-time student-athlete, I am extremely grateful for the rigorous and supportive academic journey that I have had at the Royal College. From Mr. Farrar's engaging and comedic history classes to lifting heavy barbells in the FTC with Mr. Sarellas and the boys. Thanks to all the teachers and staff for supporting my academic and athletic journey at RSGC and fostering my success.

RSGC is where I became the man I always wanted to be. This school gave me all the tools I needed; teachers, coaches and most importantly: friends. I consider every boy in my grade one of my friends' whether we've been at the school together since I came in grade seven or if they came after. The level of community we have at RSGC is hard to find anywhere else and for that, I am forever grateful. While our high school experience was unlike any other, I wouldn't change it a bit. Thank you to everyone that made it what it was.

Andrew Woollcombe

If you had told a grade 3 me that I wouldn't have to go to Evensong for the last two and a half years here, I probably would have dropped my fresh and delicious lunch!
Thanks to all my teachers and coaches who made the 10 years so great.

I want to thank my family for sending me to RSGC. I am incredibly grateful for this opportunity, and I hope I have used it to my advantage. During my time here, I have experienced many memorable moments and traditions unique to RSGC. I would also like to thank the many teachers who made this experience enjoyable. Their kindness and unwavering support helped me get to where I am today, and I can't express my gratitude enough.

CLUBS

RSGC's Robotics Team had a very productive year, creating and designing a robotic platform for a competition that was unfortunately cancelled. Luckily, the robot that we created can be easily adapted and utilized for future teams in the years to come. All the best to future team members.

The art club was small and awesome, consisting of Alexander MacDonald, Jacob Czekalla, Will Daniels, and Atticus Tiplady. Students worked in the medium of their choice to create paintings, prints and/or drawings, having fun experimenting while also improving their skills

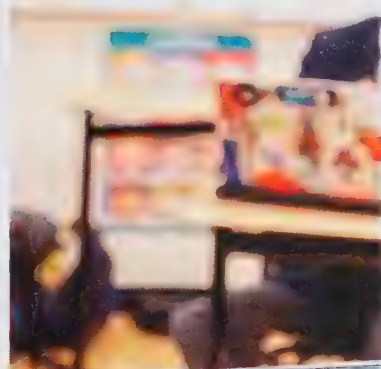

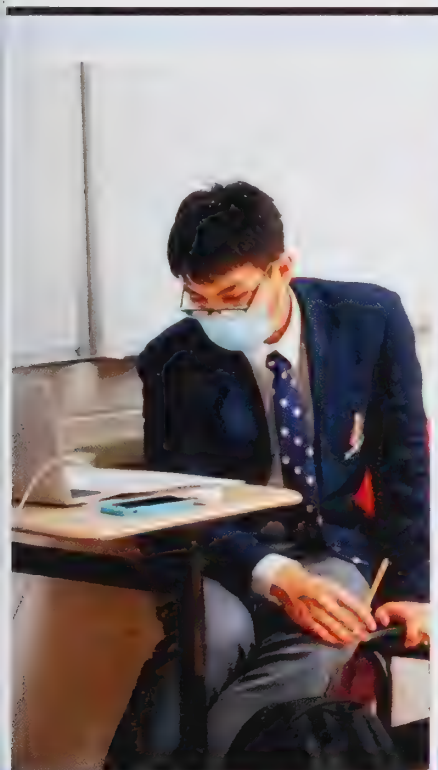

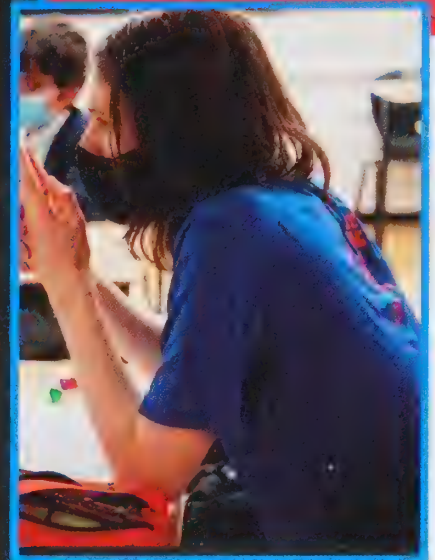

ART CLUB

DUNGEONS AND DRAGONS

D&D club this year was so much fun. We welcomed several new players and taught them the main rules of the game. We have so many quotes and insane rounds of combat. We had so much fun even with some scheduling issues. I hope more people join it next year. - Theo Hardy

JUNIOR JAZZ BAND

Junior Jazz Band was made up mostly of Grade 9 students, with an important Grade 10 member, as well. We met on Mondays throughout the year, and we learned a number of fun tunes, but more important than that: We had a lot of fun times! The group did an awesome performance of "I'll Be There" and "Billie Jean", at the Day 2 Showcase Concert. Thanks to Aidan Cole (RSGC '22), for helping to coach the club. Pictured (L-R):

ENVIRONMENT CLUB

DEBATE CLUB

The 2021-2022 school year was an exciting year for the Debate Club. We started the year with a strong group of debaters, and debated many different resolutions, both serious and silly. We continued debating even as we moved online, but we were happy to get back to in person. Several debaters participated in the Fulford Debate Tournaments, with the junior team of Sebastian Moreau and Eric Yang placing first.

We welcomed many grade 9s to the club after March Break, which means we can look forward to a promising debate year in 2022-23. To cap off the year, many debaters attended the Munk Debate on how best to end the war in Ukraine. All in all, this was an incredible year, and we are excited for what the future holds.

Leaders: Caelen Carrol, Colm McReynolds, Sebastian Moreau, Wolf Virgo, Eric Yang

Participants:

RSGC Peer Tutors and Mentors provide a weekly opportunity for students to learn with a fellow Georgian. Workshops throughout the year bring the team together to share experiences and develop knowledge about teaching and learning. We are looking forward to working in person once again next year! The Head Tutors (Marten Ling, Sam Case & Ben Galarce) and Ms. McPhedran would like to thank all the tutors for their amazing online work this year.

JUNIOR SCHOOL REACH FOR THE TOP

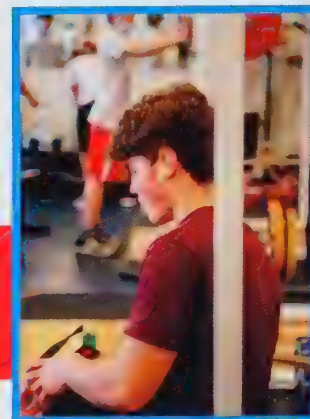

REACH FOR THE TOP

The pandemic has affected all of us. For the Reach 4 the top team, it meant that we went from meeting other teams in-person to joining Zoom calls and Google meets. It meant pressing virtual buttons instead of real ones. This year was going to be hard to begin with but on top of it, our senior team (which is meant for grade 11s and 12s) was comprised of only grade 10s. We knew we had a slim chance of coming out on top, but that didn't stop us from showing up every week, trying our best, and having fun. Heck, we even won a couple of games in the regular season. Then the playoffs came and we were the underdogs. We were facing off against the third-seeded team in the quarter-finals, and to many people's surprise, we convincingly pulled off the upset victory. Unfortunately, our seemingly Cinderella run came to an end in the following round as we lost in the semis. Still, we grew a lot as a team and bonded together as friends. The success we had this year is definitely going to give us the drive to do better next year, where the field will be more even.

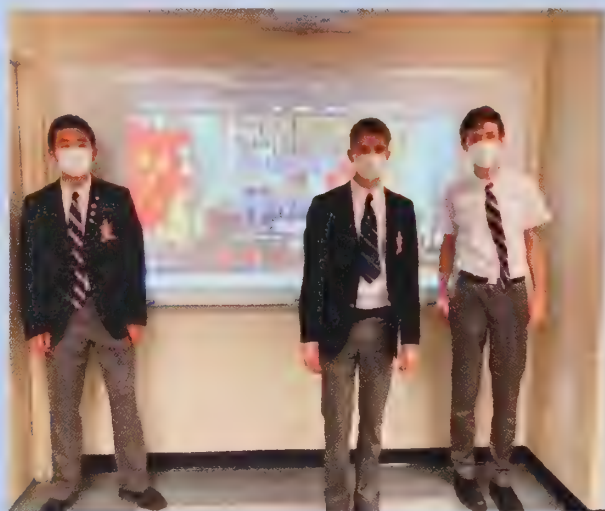

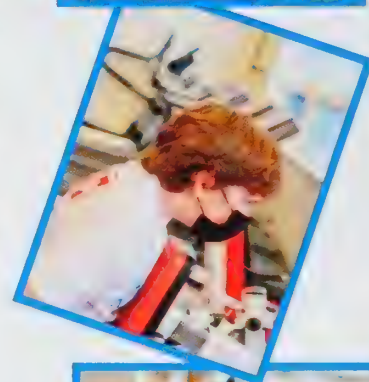

FRIDAY MORNING RUNNING CLUB

PROGRAMMING CLUB

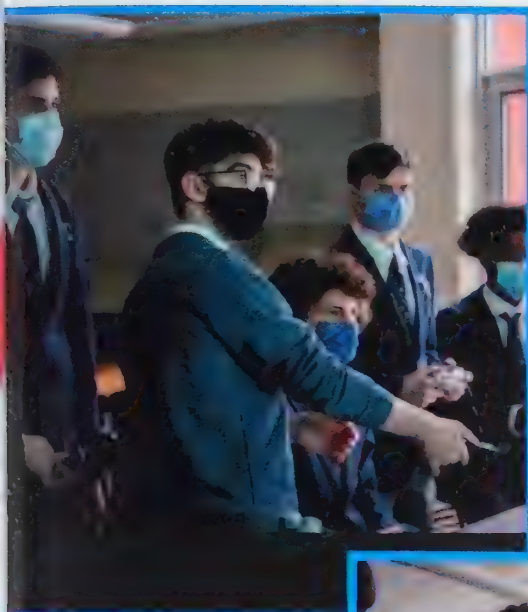

This year in the web design club, we began with the basics of frontend HTML and CSS and worked our way up to building backend servers with express and NodeJS. We've also worked with some APIs, bootstrap, and interesting npm packages. Some of the projects we've built include a Pokedex, The star wars opening screen, a tribute website, a trumpet simulator, and a website where students can check their house points.

Stocks club provided introductory and fundamental knowledge for the Georgians with an interest in business and finance in the future. Every Thursday, the boys from grades 9 - 12 would gather around and talk about market movements and news around the business world. The club offered courses about top-down and bottom-up analysis, diversification, compound interest, options, and various trading strategies. With a prize of one Apple share, the boys fiercely competed in the stock simulator and applied the learned knowledge in the real world.

AFFINITY GROUPS

This year marked our first full year with affinity groups at RSGC. Affinity groups are groups where all people of that group have a shared identity, such as race, religion, sexual orientation, or religion. I (Ms. Nozuka) facilitated our BIPOC affinity group this year for students who identify as Black, Indigenous, and People of Colour. Here are some statements that students shared about the value of affinity groups:

RSGCs BIPOC affinity group has been a highlight of my high school experience. The group has helped me and my peers find strength in our shared experiences and growing cultural pride. I look forward to it every session! - Marten Ling

The BIPOC Affinity Group has given me the opportunity to come together and build connections with other classmates through the sharing of heritage and discussing injustices around the world which has led me to cultivate a sense of belonging within the school community. - Alex Ling

THE HOWLANDER

The Howlander took a different turn this year, publishing less like an online newspaper and more like a, not newspaper.

From movie reviews to memoirs to advice on bullying you definitely should not follow, The Howlander has grown into more of an all-around student writers circle.

The first published material of the year included interviews and details about the various other post-virtual clubs, such as covering a guest speaker Levi-Alexander J. Loves workshop with the Gender Studies Club. From there members have gone on to write their own pieces on whatever they so choose: movie and video game reviews, memoirs, current events, etc.

A particular highlight has been the comedy section, including both satirical news articles and comedy sketch videos. The Howlander members look forward to growing their creative writing and comedy chops next year!

Members include: Josh Tavares-Pitts, Simon Cox, Oliver Armstrong, Eli Marcovici, Ben Hutchison, Colm McReynolds, Sebastian Isaac-Gooden, and advisors, Dr. Trena Evans and Mr. Ashfaq Aziz.

SAVING THE WORLD (ON ZOOM) BY SIMON COX

I stared at the screen, and sixteen unmoving Zoom meeting participants stared right back at me. Well, technically they were looking at the instructor. I flipped through the zoom meetings many pages into which we were automatically divided based on how much we spoke to see the interest level of their inhabitants following a clear downwards trend, ending, of course, at those with their cameras simply turned off. I couldn't bring myself to do that, but since I had no idea if this interest-based hierarchy was broadcasting my face to hundreds of pairs of eyeballs at that very moment, I continued to sit up straight and feign interest in the global water consumption crisis. Yes, yes. I agree. A couple hours of that.

I knew three things about this Zoom call prior to joining: It would be about world issues, it would have special guests, and since those special guests were especially special, the invitation was a high honour. I said yes before receiving the details, which I regretted immediately after reading the corresponding email: 9am-1pm, Saturday and Sunday, it read. I suppose I did say yes, but damn, this better be good, I thought.

I leaned back in my chair as a loading icon was displayed. We would be split into groups to get to know each other before beginning a big group project, we were told. Then, the screen lit up with a view of three other kids. One was on their bed. One had their camera off. One leaned her head on her hand in front of her wall, with a poster reading It do be like that sometimes pinned to it. We got to introducing ourselves, but quickly moved on to the topic of this workshop event as a whole.

Oh, I am so not ready for this, moaned the girl with the poster, I'm just so tired, yknow?

Well, said the boy on the bed, it do be like that sometimes.

Silence.

Cause, like, the poster

Oh yeah, yeah I know.

We were off to a great start.

Hours and hours passed, and so many dirty dishes magically appeared on my desk that I could make another desk out of them. At one point, while I was zoning out during another speech from some charity, a Zoom notification popped up on my screen:

Unnamed User privately messages Simon Cox:

Hey, you seem like a pretty cool dude.

Well. Okay, then. I was completely stumped. Was this meant for another person? In retrospect, this message was the most entertaining thing I had experienced all day. I stared at the message for a while. No follow-up, no context, no revisions. That was the message. Huh. I clicked on the find button next to the message, and I was sent back to page 8, which consisted entirely of camera off icons, where I was pointed towards just one of the many. As expected, I'd never heard this guy speak, seen his face, or interacted with him in any way. Completely at a loss on how to respond, I fell back to my ol reliable:

Simon Cox privately messages Unnamed User:

Thanks, you too.

To this day, I have no idea what that guy meant. Most likely, he was kicking himself for messaging the wrong person. Because it's weird to send a stranger a message like that, and the only way he could have taken it back would be to follow up with Oops, wrong person. You stupid loser.

By the time we were supposed to make our presentations, I had gained some kind of psychic ability to tell what people were thinking when they spoke. Were very excited to speak to you today, announced a student. I have never been so bored, they thought. I'd be happy to join, students said. Please end me, they thought. There was also some kind of representative from the United Nations (Seriously! The United Nations!) on the call. Thank you for your valuable time, he said. I could literally be saving millions of lives at this very moment, he thought. It was at that moment that I stopped feeling sorry for myself getting stuck in this Zoom call; That poor UN guy probably had to take time out of his high-level diplomatic work to watch a bunch of unprepared teenagers tell him that climate change was bad for five minutes, run a game of Kahoot, and end off with a Thanks for listening GIF. But he just smiled and smiled. What a guy.

After the eight hours had finally passed, and my weekend was mostly through with, I logged off with nothing to show for it but a certificate in the underwhelming form of a PDF file. I had a boring weekend, but it was entirely on me for saying yes. But I did learn one thing: It do be like that sometimes.

RED FLAGS (OR SAIL)

BY JOSH TAVARES-PITTS

And in that moment, I realized I had seen the future. The déjà vu I experienced when I stared at that ice cooler was unlike anything I had ever felt before. The outdoor benches under a gazebo, the cool grey pavement with that signature puddle of water running out from under that same big, light-blue cooler listing I-C-E on the front, it was something I had definitely seen before. But I knew I had never been there before, as this was a summer sailing camp. And I hate sailing. Back on that fateful day in 2018, when I was still that naive 12 year old, I had made a fatal error. I was lazing about on my sofa, watching some classic cable TV, when my parents inquired with me about the possibility of going to a sailing camp during the summer. Of course, I agreed, thinking nothing of it. It might be a fun experience, I told myself, oblivious to the nightmare that would befall me in a month and a half.

When I arrived at the Boulevard Club that July (very fancy, I know), I was excited. We were taken to the back area of the club, where the docks were. It was a pretty open area. The outside entrance, where the parents would come at the end of the day to pick up their children, was enclosed by a fence, leading into a small hill with a grassy field. The edge of the field was cut off by a small cliff of about two meters, at the bottom of which was a very trash-filled pocket of lake Ontario. This pristine green field, I would later find, would become my saving grace throughout this entire experience. The first day was filled with icebreaker activities. We all gathered on the grassy field, where we went around in a circle introducing ourselves. All of the introductions were as you would expect; however, one in particular caught my attention. It landed on a girl who introduced herself as Sterling Scott.

To any normal person, this name would mean nothing special. However, if you've ever watched a Youtube channel called Studio C, you would recognize the name from one of their more famous skits, Scott Sterling. This skit featured the penalty shoot-out portion of a soccer game, in which the amazing goalie, Scott Sterling, would impossibly save the ball from going in the net each time, unintentionally using his face. It escalates to the point where he is nearly unconscious on the ground, crawling away from the net, as another ball hits the rim, bounces off, and smacks him in the face again. I recommend watching this skit, as it is one of my personal favourites. As crazy as this coincidence was, it got even crazier when they announced we would be playing a friendly match of soccer and, lo and behold, Sterling Scott was to be our goalie. We were winning two to one, and with one minute left, the enemy team was coming up on our goal. If they scored here, we would be tied, which for kids of our age was essentially a loss. The striker of the team wound up their kick, and released, sending the ball flying. WHAM! I kid you not, the ball barrelled directly into the face of Sterling Scott, saving the goal and winning us the game. Everyone was cheering as Sterling was taken away to receive an ice pack.

Now, you're probably thinking, you said you hated this, it sounds to me like you were having a great time. Don't you worry, the suffering is about to begin.

During lunch on the second day, I was sitting at the picnic tables with some of the other camp attendees, including one bruised Sterling Scott. On top of the déjà vu I experienced from looking to my left, where the light-blue ice cooler at the base of the club building was, I was about to witness the beginning of my end. The chatter from the tables died down as the instructor approached. Today guys, we are going to start sailing! Who's excited? Cheers erupted from the crowd, my voice among them. How foolish I was. When we had gotten our wetsuits on, which consisted of a swimsuit and a thin shirt to keep us warm, reviewed the rules of the ropes, and got into partners, we set off on our sailboats. The moment I stepped onto the boat, it rocked like crazy. That was red flag number one. While out sailing, the boat would not stop shaking, throwing water in and out like a hose on the mist setting. Red flag number two. The winds were incredibly strong that day, making the boat incredibly difficult to steer, blowing it all across the water. Red flag number three. Nearing the end of the day, we had to be rescued by our instructor, as we didn't know how to control the boat enough to get it back to shore. After experiencing my first outing, I was traumatized. This was not the relaxing boat ride I had wanted or expected.

The final day of the camp, following the past week of what can only be described as torture, it was the test day. We were to demonstrate our skills to the instructor out on the waters. Most of it went fine, until the point when we gathered on the water and listened to our final task. For the final assessment, you will now capsize your boat and right it again. I was astounded. One thing was going through my mind. So you're telling me that we need to purposefully flip over our boat, launching in the ice cold freezing water, to simply put it back up again and carry on like nothing happened? It is safe to say I didn't pass that test.

ESCAPE

BY HARRY PRESSMAN

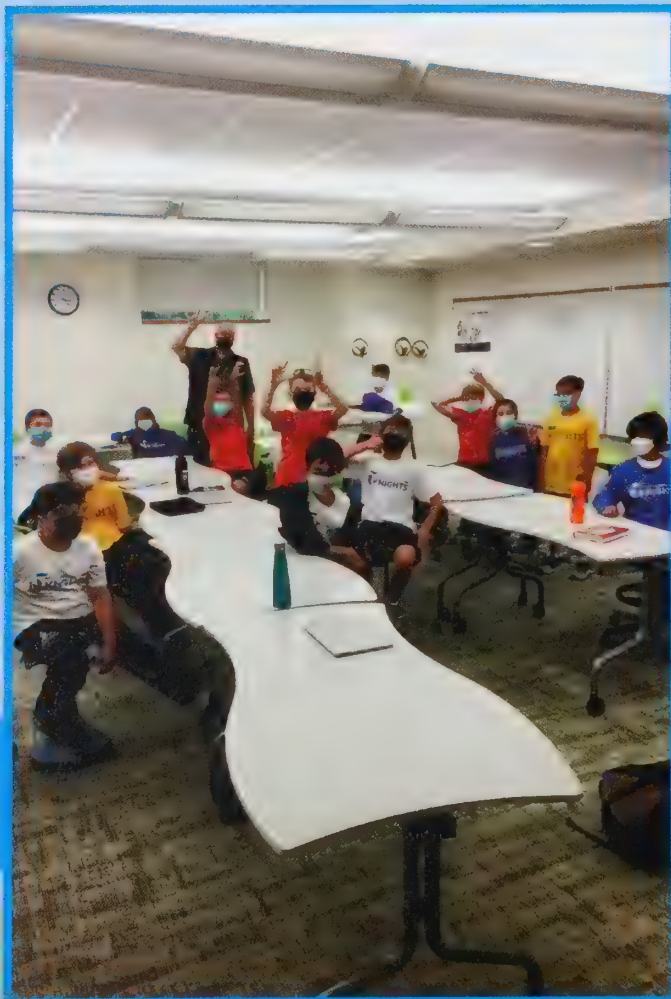

Escaping my reality, immersing myself in virtuality is one thing.
Within arms reach is the tranquility of an open field, a beautiful land created by the mind,
the worlds of mythology, from Greek to Norse to Egyptian.
Coming back to reality, a state of normalcy, is something else entirely.
Leaving behind lands, war-torn, or mystical, or joyous,
Leaving behind a life of adventure, of do-overs, of wonder it takes a toll.
Wanting just five more minutes, but having to return to my real, dull life.
Living life on the edge, where it's ruled by imagination, a state of total freedom, all gone.
Living life as an adventurer, a dredger, a god, all gone the toll is paid.
Going from heaven to purgatory, from the best life possible to boredom and waiting.
The boredom of knowing what's coming next, repeating the same day over and over again, of normalcy.
Struggling to get out of bed, to go on with my day, to live, knowing there's something better.
Waiting desperately for something, anything, to change.
Waiting for nothing while my ears still ring from an explosion that didn't happen.
Waiting, eager to return to my false world while my true life remains changeless the toll is paid again.
Returning, I escape my reality, savouring the time I have in my short, sweet life of lies
Until reality starts breathing down my neck.
Returning to my infinite cycle of monotony, the toll must be paid once more.

"Playing soccer with my friends at recess makes me happy." A. McFarland

"Watching our boys transform into young men together on the hardwood, and then taking that team building experience, self confidence, and ability to handle both success and failure while moving ahead in a positive direction into every aspect of their lives on and off the basketball court will always bring me great joy - GO KNIGHTS!" S. Loucks

Twenty senior school students pushed their limits, braved the elements, and demonstrated incredible team spirit as members of the 2021 Cross Country Team. As usual, this years squad featured students from all four grades who worked together three or four days a week and took advantage of the group training effect. Our top runners were Luke Mazan in Grade 9, Henry McCutcheon in Grade 10, and our top senior was Zach Mazan. In addition, the team was thankful for the veteran support of the Grade 12 student, Jack Beatty, who supplied many words of wisdom. With fewer races in the calendar, the coaches were thoroughly impressed with the athlete's commitment and work ethic. This seasons highlights include a match race versus Crescent, intersquad hill relays, endless loops at Winston Churchill park, and our weekly long runs that always seemed a bit too long. The weeks of training were rewarded with the CISAA championship race in Lakefield. Congratulations to our eleven athletes who raced well enough at Lakefield to earn a spot in the provincial cross country running championship, OFSAA. This is a team full of potential and we are looking forward to seeing what these students will be able to accomplish next year!

CROSS COUNTRY

GRADE 7 INTRAMURAL SOCCER

The morning intramurals club met twice weekly running throughout the fall term. It was coordinated into 4 drafted teams with round robin games and playoffs, plus a season ending all-star match against the Grade 8 league team. The student-coaches were Reid Burrison, Andrew Gallagher, Tom Corcoran, and Will von Teichman. In his words, soccer was so fun this year, we all had a great time. It was hard to pick ourselves up early in the morning but we all enjoyed the club so much. I hope we can do it again next year. I hope so too.

U16 SOCCER

October 6th was a day that could not come soon enough!!!! A group of 18 individuals and 2 coaches took a bus up to St. Andrews College to start a soccer season that had been 2 years in the making. Most trips to St. Andrews end with a speech about working hard and keeping heads up after a difficult game -- not this team, not this day!!!! We returned to the bus with a trouncing of the hosts at our hands winning our first game in convincing fashion. The team was relentless in its preparation and hard work at the practice in its newly appointed Christie Pitts location. Always grinding to get the top field so that we could deploy our wide style of play - somedays even bringing in guest goalkeepers from the sidelines to try and slow down our vaunted strikers. The season was successful in allowing over 30 boys a chance to play on an RSGC Knights competitive team. That number has never been higher, and the spirits of all the individuals have never been better.

SENIOR SOCCER

The senior soccer team demonstrated a spirited enthusiasm in their initial return to the pitch this year. The boys started the season with a three-game undefeated run, including a hard-fought comeback win against Appleby. While they could not maintain that momentum to close the season, they admirably continued to demonstrate Georgian qualities in the face of in-game adversity. The season was a successful and fun return to the beautiful game for our senior students.

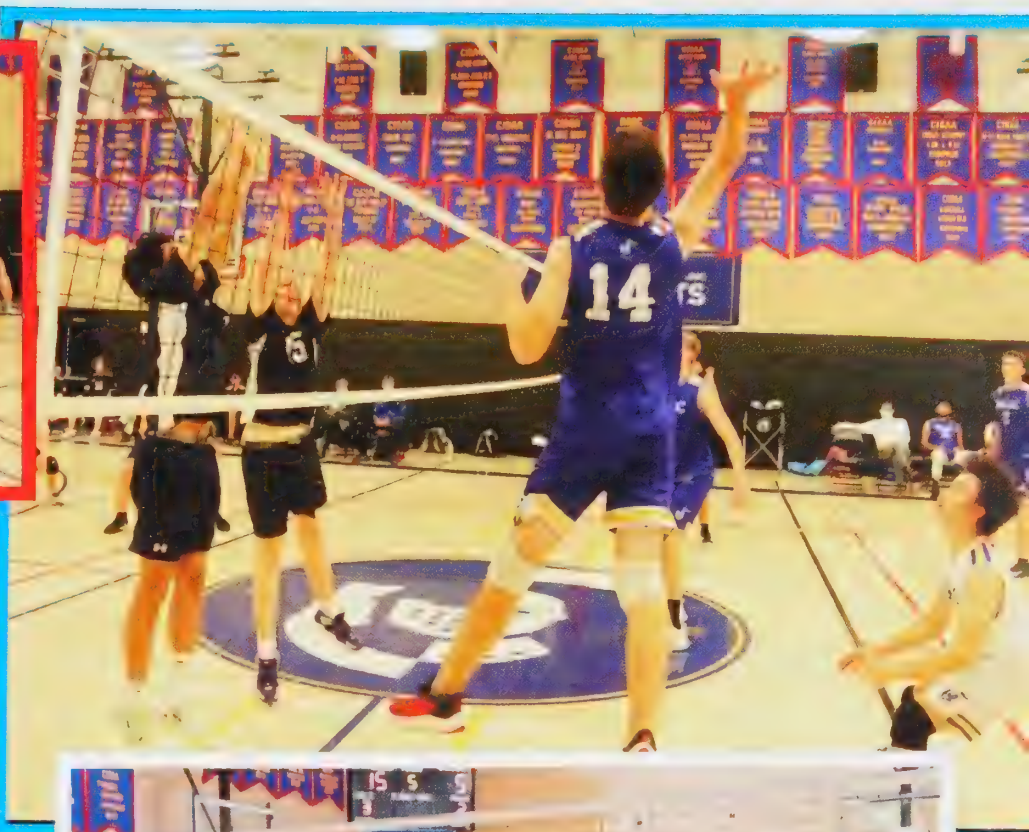

U16 VOLLEYBALL

Volleyball is an intense sport, which requires focus and precision. Those skills don't come naturally, and they take practice to develop and become a better team. That is exactly what happened this season. We may have started the season out of practice, with a shaky first game, but the improvement was easily noticeable. As the season went on, the team practiced together and became better at not only volleyball, but also at being a team. The team aspect of volleyball is so essential, whether it be from the support and motivation when you or a teammate wins a point, or the patience when a teammate makes a mistake. The RSGC team had all those qualities, which boosted team morale, and resulted in a constant positive attitude on the court. Although the results of the season were not ideal, the team's improvement was clear, and all my teammates and I developed teamwork skills which can be used for any sport, and volleyball next year. Will Greer 24

SENIOR VOLLEYBALL

This was a historic season for our Varsity Volleyball program. Following a lost 20-21 season, this group of dedicated athletes hit the floor with a renewed drive and determination. One by one the giants fell as these Knights continued to rise to the occasion. An undefeated regular season carried over for some of these gentlemen to their 9 and 0 Under 16 Division 2 Championship season in 2019. Division 1 was a different story though and a story that has never before been written with the royal, white and gold coming out on top But this team was different, they had a little extra swagger, a little extra edge.

Oct 6th vs St Andrews Win 3-1

Oct 13th @ Crescent Win 3-1

Oct 18th vs Upper Canada Win 3-2

Oct 20th @ Appleby Win 3-1

Oct 27th vs St Michael's College Win 3-0

The postseason matchup had St Andrew's travelling to RSGC for bragging rights. RSGC started slowly, losing the first two sets 22-25 and 23-25 respectively. The Knights stormed back in the next two sets (25-13 & 25-23) to force a fifth and deciding set. The belt was on the line and from very early on it was evident who wanted it more. A dominating 15-5 win in the fifth topped off a perfect season and a first-ever Division 1 Varsity Volleyball Championship for RSGC. The coaching staff would like to thank this wonderful group of athletes. It was a great ride, thanks for bringing us along.
Congrats gentlemen - Coaches O'Leary & Turner

U13 BASKETBALL

This year our season was short, but sweet. We had fun practices each week and played two exciting games. Our record wasn't great, but the enjoyable and memorable time we spent together as RSGC basketball players certainly was. Our coaches, Mr. Thornbury and Mr. Beatty, helped us make the most of our time on the hardwood. At every opportunity, they encouraged us to play hard no matter the score. We improved both as basketball players and as Georgians. I can't wait for next year!

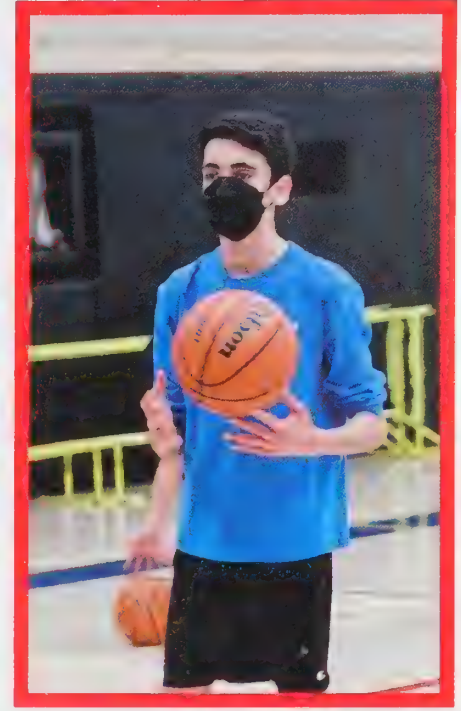

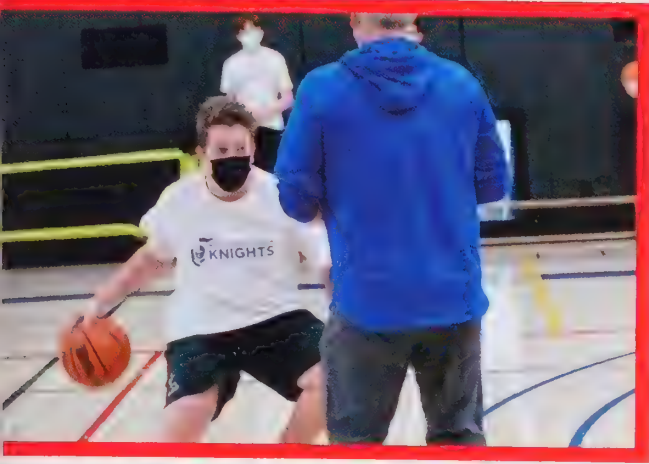

U14 BASKETBALL

Thank you for your commitment and very best efforts during this strange, sporadic, and short season. I wish that we could have had more time together, but at least it was better than what the pandemic handed us last season - forward we go to better times! I hope that you all had fun, strengthened bonds with your teammates, increased your basketball IQ and your love of the game. It was a pleasure working with you. Keep on hooping it up and see you soon,
Coach Loucks

SENIOR BASKETBALL

Sooooo, not many pics from the ol' Sr basketball team. Probably because their games were so intense no one was thinking of the yearbook!

It was so great to have these guys back together after far too long! I know they loved it! Especially the grads!

U14 HOCKEY

It was so amazing to see our Knights back on the ice this year! We had the largest number of interested hockey players ever. In fact, we had enough participants to create two teams, one in grade 7 and another in grade 8. While it was a season of just exhibition games, our Georgians played their hearts out and won every one of them. We would like to acknowledge the players for their effort, passion and camaraderie as they played the game we love.

JR. VARSITY HOCKEY

The U16 hockey team had a successful abbreviated season. Our team finished second overall with a 1-1-1 record. Our strong play earned us a championship match against our division rivals Crescent School. Unfortunately, we fell to Crescent in the finals, but we ended the season with a respectful second-place finish. This team was an absolute pleasure to coach. They constantly battled hard and played with energy and determination during games. They also supported one another, which created a fun team atmosphere. There was some significant leadership from a core group of grade 10s, and they will do a great job next year as they move up to the senior squad. We have a solid core of talented Grade 9s, and we have lots to look forward to next year.

After more than two years the Senior Hockey reformed. Twenty-three players took to the ice to represent RSGC in three round robin tournaments held at Ridley College, Leaside Arena and Forest Hill. It was great being back as a school team and we want to thank coaches Donnelly and Leatch for a fun and memorable season.

VARSITY HOCKEY

GOLF

After a two-year hiatus, the Golf Team returned to the links this spring. The tournaments this season challenged the players with snow, rain, mud and windy conditions. The Sun did come out to shine, and our boys hit their strides to compete well against their peers, with both teams qualifying for the CISAA championships at Cherry Downs. Thanks for a wonderful return to school golf everyone.

RSGCs senior tennis team competed in matches against other CISAA teams throughout the spring term. Despite the pandemic keeping RSGC from competing the past few years, we finished with a 3-3 record, qualifying for CISAA finals. With an array of ages on the team, we saw incredible improvement over the season - were very hopeful for the years to come! A huge thank you to Mr. Stevens for the advice and encouragement and a thank you to the team for a great season!

TENNIS

The U-16 badminton team had a short but eventful season, with practices at school and games at St. Mike's, UCC and Crescent. We had a wonderful group of students, and we thank them all for their good humour, Georgian manners, and mutual support throughout our time together.

The fun began every Tuesday at 7:15 am - and what a great way to start the day! In our short season, we grew not only in our skills and expertise but also in our positive team spirit. In these morning practices, the seeds were planted.

Extra thanks and appreciation go out to our two student leaders, Kian Chen and Eric Yang, who helped organize practices and drills so expertly. They always seemed happy to be there, making everyone equally glad to be there!

Congratulations to all on a fun season, and we hope everyone will continue to play badminton - and come back next year!

What words did our players describe the season?

Improvement, dedication, compassion; It was a pre cool szn; Fun, exciting; Fun, competitive, nostalgic; Exciting. It was hard just to get on the team, due to the fact that so many people tried out. And games every week kept us in shape; Tough, joyful, challenging & exciting; Fun, Challenging, Exhilarating; We worked hard and tried our best. Sometimes that wasn't enough but we learned from our losses and improved as a team in the end; Quick, fun and active.

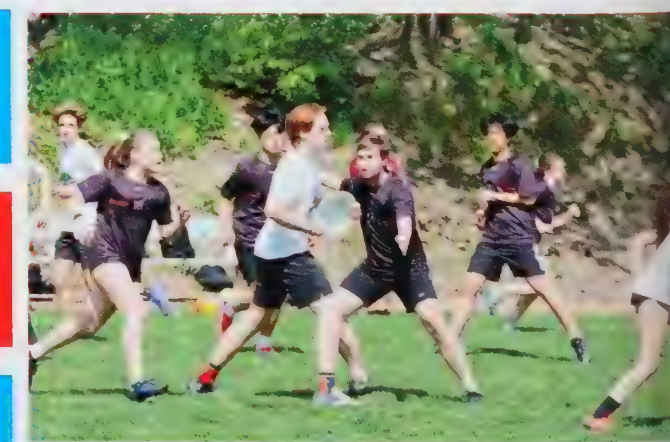

"The badminton team successfully completed a full spring season. A group of novice players quickly grew in confidence and ability as the weeks unfolded. Sending 7 players to the final tournament was a win in itself, as they finished within the top 7 schools. As the majority of the team was made up with grade 7s, they are eager to return next year. Good luck to our grade 8s in their badminton journey!"

BADMINTON

ULTIMATE FRISBEE

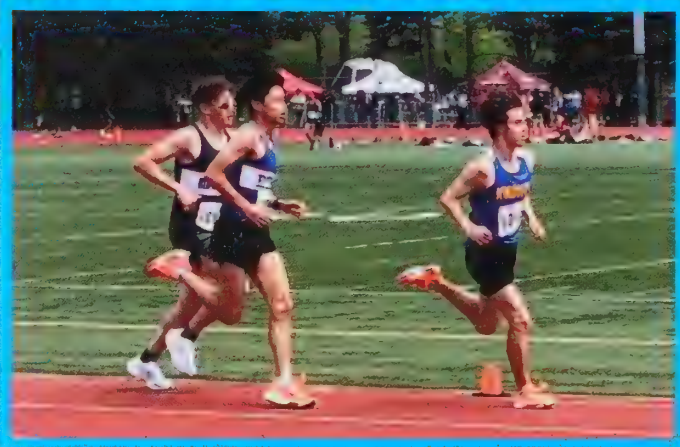

BASEBALL

Despite having limited competition experience and access to facilities, students in the 2021-22 Track and Field Team exceeded expectations. This season's highlights included Braden Flint finishing 4th in the Senior 3000m at CISAA, Adrian Robertson-Caryll finishing top 10 in the Junior 100m, and Tye Leider finishing top 10 in Novice 100m hurdles at Metros. This team is in great shape to be even more competitive next year!

Today we want to recognize our Athletes and coaches your their efforts and thank them for their resilience and positive spirit in what has been a challenging year. We are excited to see that things are headed back toward normal and we are hopeful that we will have a full competitive season for the 22-23 school year.

As much of the focus this year has been getting back to competition for everyone, we do have some new banners to add to the gymnasium wall. Congratulations to the undefeated Sr Div 1 Volleyball team, the Sr Div 1 Ultimate Spirit of the Game winners and our Under 16 CISAA Division 1 Ultimate Frisbee Champions. Lets hear it for this outstanding group of champions.

Due to that unfortunate stoppage that considerably shorten our Winter term, we have decided that it would not be appropriate to select award winners for that term. We also hope that next year will allow us to recognize all 3 terms of sport and return to the selection of athletes of the year for grades 9 through 12.

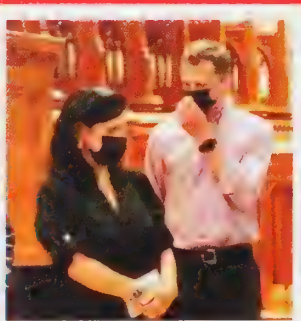

We have asked our Fall and Spring coaches to make the difficult decision of selecting 3 players who have had a significant impact on their team. There are many ways that someone can make an impact on a team but here at RSGC we recognize

The Most Improved Player - will have increased the impact they have on the team in a positive way the most from the beginning to the end of the season - factors, such as skill development, understanding of the game and attitude towards teammates and coaches are taken into account.

The Most Valuable Player is - a Competitive and Capable individual who has significantly contributed to the success of the team, culture, and chemistry.

And finally - The Georgian Sport Award - recognizes individuals who through their positive team-first mentality had the most significant impact on team spirit and chemistry.
